Presidential Candidate Research
(Donald Trump, Hillary Clinton, Gary Johnson, and Jill Stein)

With the election just days away (and early voting in Texas already beginning), it is important to understand who the candidates are, their qualifications, political affiliation, and their stance on issues.

Directions:

Using the research links provided on your teacher's "Class Links" page, answer each item below and create a candidate profile that describes one of the people campaigning to be our president. Post a final draft of your research on the paper provided by your teacher. You will share the information and try to convince our class if the candidate you researched is the best person for the job of President of the United States of America.
